

9 June 1942
Lancaster, Pa.

Dear George,

received a letter from Goldemar (sent through my sister in Australia, which might be of some interest to the old gang - though I assume that its contents will be already anticipated there. Since I intend to reply to it same way, would like to hear from you whether there is anything particular to be added or not. You certainly should understand that I have been ignorant of all circumstances for such a long time that I would not like to make a wrong move or step in this matter. In my opinion it concerns other people much more than me. Since I intend to be in Washington on June 16 and 17 on my way to and from West Virginia, it would be convenient to meet somebody and discuss this matter. I have to add that Voller's letter seems to me somehow phony, but I cannot decide it myself - nor can I leave it unanswered. Otherwise I have survived some rather hard blows - as you might have heard it - and don't expect to be without them in the future. So, some sort of a salt in otherwise tasteless and drab life.

Your ex-man in Lancaster,

P.S. My sister mailed the a/m letter on May 15; did not mention when did it arrive.